

Hammock House

Garden Pavilion

Killiney, Co. Dublin, Ireland

Client Private Client
Appointment Summer 2004
Contract Value 150,000 euro
Commencement (on hold)
Services Full Architectural Services

A garden pavilion of timber and glass, the Hammock House seeks to maximise the potential of small sloping site. Creating a good relationship with existing buildings and trees and ensuring good sun access were key considerations in the design of this primarily social/leisure space. The creation of a harmonious relationship between building, occupant and nature was essential to the proper functioning of this space of relaxation.

